Security agency had heavy file

Over 1,000 federal wiretaps disclosed

WASHINGTON (AP) — The National Security Agency intercepted more than 1,000 telephone and telegraph communications involving antiwar activists and other dissidents and reported on them to the CIA and the FBI, according to informed sources.

The NSA intercepts began in 1969 and continued for "a two or three-year period," detailing the foreign travels and organizing efforts of various American radicals whose names had been provided to NSA by CIA, the sources said.

Summaries of the intercepted communications were transmitted via courier from NSA headquarters at Ft. Meade, Md., to CIA offices in Langley, Va., where they became part of the files of Operation CHAOS, which monitored the activities of domestic dissidents, sources said.

Similar summaries went to other government agencies, including the FBI and Defense Intelligence Agency, a separate source said.

The same source confirmed that Dr. Benjamin Spock, actress Jane Fonda, Black Panther leader Eldridge Cleaver and Chicago Seven defendants Abbie Hoffman and David Dellinger were targets of NSA intercepts. However, the source would not say whether those names had been supplied to the NSA by the CIA or some other agency.

Spock, author of a best-selling book on child care and a third-party presidential candidate in 1972, said later, "If our government would put its efforts and our tax money into creating a more just society rather than snooping on citizens who differ with them, America would be impregnable."

A source who had seen the NSA summaries provided to the CIA said they were derived from intercepts of cable and telephone traffic between the U.S. and foreign countries or between two points overseas.

None of the sources could give a reliable estimate of the number of persons whose communications were intercepted. However, comments of several sources indicated the CIA gave at least 40 names to the NSA.

In another development, a former Pentagon investigator said Monday he was told by the White House to develop evidence that syndicated columnist Jack Anderson had a homosexual relationship with a suspected news source, Navy Yeoman Charles Radford.

W. Donald Stewart, who was in charge of the investigation into news leaks, said the demand was made on Dec. 23, 1971, by David Young, then the Nixon administration official in charge of the White House "plumbers" unit.

Stewart stressed that Young did not suggest to him that he fabricate a homosexual relationship between Anderson and Radford.

"They didn't want me to go trump up anything," Stewart said. "They wanted me to go interview (Radford) and ask him, 'Do you have any homosexual relationship with Jack Anderson?'"

Stewart said he refused Young's demand, telling him it "was not germane to the investigation." According to Stewart, Young responded, "Well, the President wants this done, the President wants this done."

members have had a crack at it, O'Neill indicated. He declined to elaborate on exactly what programs are being eyed for budget slashes, but he said, "we looked at all areas of government spending."

Among the defense spending reductions already discussed publicly by the OMB are cuts in such areas as officer training programs and federal subsidies to military commissaries. Meanwhile, the President's press secretary, Ron Nessen, said that congressmen who think the President's program is too vague should examine the spending reductions he proposed in the past as an indication of what cut-backs he would like in the future.

Nessen said these past spending reduction proposals, largely ignored by Congress, offer lawmakers "a pretty good idea" of Ford's plans for the next fiscal year.

"It seems to me Congress is suffering a case of amnesia," Nessen said at his daily news briefing.

Bananas trap stray monkey

HAMILTON, Ohio (AP) — Eric, a one-year-old monkey, concluded bananas taste better than policemen and succumbed to the dog warden's trap at Corpus Christi School while 300 students stood outside and giggled.

Eric got away from owners Billy Schooley and Jeff Reynolds Sunday and spent the night on an electric transformer outside the school.

He walked across the wires into the school when the children began arriving Monday.

The students were herded outside while Patrolman Charles Bryant cornered the monkey in the library. But the policeman called for help after Eric bit him on both hands.

The warden baited a cage with a banana and the hungry monkey scampered in for breakfast as the cage door slammed shut.

President to seek Middle East aid

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Ford will ask Congress soon for Mideast military and economic aid as a sequel to the Israeli-Egyptian Sinai agreement.

In signing on Monday a resolution authorizing the assignment of 200 American civilians to early-warning stations in the Sinai, Ford said he would "soon consult Congress on what is required" to sustain U.S. relations with Middle East countries.

The President did not elaborate, but White House officials said he referred to aid requests now being prepared which they expected Ford to send to Congress within the next two or three weeks.

At a hastily-announced Oval Office ceremony, Ford signed a joint resolution that cleared Congress last week and declared:

"I reaffirm today that we will not accept stagnation or stalemate in the Middle East."

The President said the United States must maintain a diplomatic offensive in the Mideast "in order to sustain the momentum toward peace generated by the Sinai agreement."

Then, as if to underscore the importance he attaches to his forthcoming aid requests, he said that U.S. bilateral relations with Middle Eastern nations "form the foundation for success in our diplomatic efforts."

In documents related to the interim Sinai accord negotiated by Secretary of State Henry A. Kissinger, the United States:

—Stated it has an understanding with Israel on future American economic aid, including a promise to help replenish its oil supply if Israel is cut off by Iran, and assured Israel that the United States will consider continued military aid to that country.

—Attested to an understanding with Egypt that will give consideration to economic aid for that nation.

Ford termed the Sinai agreement "a significant step towards an over-all settlement in the Middle East but declared it was not an end in itself.

He said the United States must continue "vigorous diplomatic efforts to promote the prospects of peace."

The American technicians are not expected to arrive in the Middle East until February, but Ford had made early approval of the authorizing resolution a priority item of legislation.

The Senate approved the use of U.S. civilians by a 70 to 18 vote last Thursday, a day after the House approved the arrangement by a vote of 341 to 69.

Simon was interviewed on NBC-TV's "Today Show."

President Ford last week proposed tax cuts for next year of $28 billion, including a partial extension of this year's federal income tax reductions. But he insisted that the reductions be accompanied by an identical cut in federal spending in the fiscal year beginning next Oct. 1. He said he will propose specific spending reductions to Congress in January.

Congressional critics of Ford's program have complained that since the tax cuts would start Jan. 1 and the spending cuts would not come for another nine months, the Ford plan would force Congress into blindly setting a spending ceiling before getting around to actually voting on the next budget.

The list of specific reductions the lawmakers are seeking is in its first draft, but members of Congress won't get a chance to see it until Cabinet

HOME IS WHERE THE HORRIBLES ARE — At least that's the case at the Helen and Gene Vernon residence located at the corner of Lincoln Drive and Columbus Avenue. The Vernons, with help from their five children ages 4 through 16, readied their home for Halloween last Sunday. This is the second year the family has displayed the elaborate decor in Washington C.H. Before moving here, the Halloween decorations were a common sight in Bloomingburg where they originally resided. When asked to comment about the display, Gene said, "Our family likes to decorate for special occasions and on Nov. 1 we'll probably get started on the Christmas stuff."

Public invited to inspect facility Sunday

Open house set at children's home

The Fayette County commissioners announced Tuesday that an open house has been scheduled Sunday at the county children's home.

An extensive renovation of the facility located on Ohio 38-N is nearing completion, and the public is invited to the open house. The buildings and grounds will be open from 2 until 5 p.m.

Through funds appropriated by the commissioners and the generosity of Pennington Bread, Inc., there has been roof repair, painting, redecoration of the interior, and the addition of recreational equipment.

Pennington Bread employees had undertaken renovation of the Fayette County Children's Home as their founder's day project. Employees donated their time and collected contributions to accomplish the remodeling. They had approached the commissioners who quickly approved and agreed to cooperate in the venture.

Originally constructed in the 1880s, the buildings have undergone several improvements since that time. The current program is one of the most extensive in recent years.

The commissioners and county children's services administrators urged Fayette County residents to visit the home and become acquainted with the facilities.

The commissioners also announced that preparation of the land on N. Fayette Street has been completed. The area is now ready for service as a parking facility for county employees. Extending west from N. Fayette Street along the alley across from the American Legion hall, the lot will be restricted to use by public employees.

Although the land was purchased in June, it has not been used as a restricted parking area for the past several months. As a result, the general public has been using the lot for private parking.

While the commissioners were pleased to see the land put to use during the interim, they will now limit parking to county employees who have been issued parking permits.

The permits are being issued by the heads of the various county departments, and sheriff's deputies and city police will patrol the lot to prevent parking of unauthorized vehicles.

Two Illinois escapees recaptured

SALEM, Ill. (AP) — "They were afraid of the water. They were afraid the creeks were polluted," a Marion County jail official said after two thirsty federal prison escapees were captured several miles apart in a rural area near Salem.

Authorities apprehended escapees Edward Roche, 39, of Katonah, N.Y., and Maurice J. Philion, 40, of Oakland, Calif., Monday night. The pair escaped with three other inmates Friday from the Marion Federal Penitentiary by tripping prison gate locks with a homemade electronic device.

One of the escapees, Arthur J. Mankins, 37, of Germantown, N.C., was picked up Sunday after a stolen getaway car crashed following a high-speed chase. The others fled into surrounding fields and wooded areas, which authorities have been combing with tracking dogs.

Convicts Dennis D. Hunter, 26, of Chicago and Henry Gargano, 43, of Salem, Ohio, remained at large today. Gargano was serving 199 years for murder and Hunter 25 years for kidnapping and other crimes.

Roche and Philion were found walking in opposite directions on the Baltimore & Ohio Railroad tracks, about three miles apart. They were arrested within an hour of each other and both were returned to the prison, about 75 miles away, late Monday night.

Roche was taken into custody two miles from where the fugitives' auto crashed on Sunday. Both men told authorities they were looking for water, but Roche said they were afraid to drink from creeks.

"I told him it was better than water in the city," said jail administrator Tom Fischer. But he said Roche told him, "No, it was polluted." Philion said the escapees hadn't had water in three days.

Deputy Sheriff Norman Rose said several area residents had called police to report a man asking them for water. Rose said he searched the area near the homes of the callers and then parked his car by the railroad tracks.

He soon spotted Philion walking along the tracks, and "I just turned the flashlight on him and said, 'Halt! This is the police' and to stick his hands up. He said, 'Okay, don't shoot!'" Rose said.

Roche was picked up by two FBI agents as he walked east away from Salem, according to Victor Schaeffer, special agent in charge of the manhunt. He said Roche was carrying a .410 shotgun but had no ammunition.

After their escape, the five convicts made their way about 20 miles from the prison, apparently on foot, to a rural Buncombe home where they held an elderly couple hostage for about five hours on Saturday. The couple was not harmed, and the men took food, guns, clothing and the couple's car before heading for Salem on Sunday.

Two Salem police officers spotted the fugitives' car and gave chase, ending in the crash when the escapees attempted a U-turn to avoid capture. Mankins was arrested.

A search of a 27-square-mile area around the crash site failed to turn up the other four convicts on Sunday, and more than 150 agents resumed the manhunt Monday after two men were reported seen before dawn on the front porch of a farmhouse.

State board assigns pupils to vo-ed school districts

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Only a handful of Ohio school districts are without programs and facilities for vocational education as a result of action Monday by the state Board of Education.

At its regular monthly meeting, the board carried through with its previously announced plan to assign students in districts with no opportunities to six existing districts which have facilities and meet prescribed standards.

The only exceptions were six districts in Fairfield County which have a levy on the Nov. 4 ballot to build a school. Greenville City School District was granted permission to develop its own program, and the board deferred action until Nov. 10 in the case of the Liberty Benton Local School District in Hancock County.

A total of 38 districts were assigned to the Apollo District, serving Auglaize and Mercer Counties; Penta County, serving Hancock, Hardin, Putnam, Seneca, and Wyandot Counties; Tri-Rivers, serving Wyandot; Vanguard, serving Seneca and Wyandot; Vantage, serving Mercer and Putnam, and Warren, serving Warren County.

In other business, the board announced approval of 12 more colleges and universities as having been approved under a five-year evaluation project involving teacher preparation programs. The evaluation of 51 institutions offering teacher education was started in May 1972.

Added to the approved list were Ohio State University, Youngstown State University, Antioch College, The Athenaeum of Ohio, Bluffton College, Capital University, Cedarville College, Denison University, Notre Dame College, Ohio Wesleyan University, Wright State University, and Xavier University.

The board adopted new standards for educating gifted children along with others for urban education, and approved pupil transportation reimbursements for school districts — all to enable the distribution of newly-appropriated state funds.

State Instruction Supt. Martin Essex said the gifted pupil standards are to guide the allocation of an $100,000-a-year outlay the legislature appropriated for that purpose to "demonstrate a return to the recognition of meritocracy and exemplary student achievement."

Here is the list of systems assigned to joint vocational school districts. The vocational district is listed first, then the local school districts assigned by county.

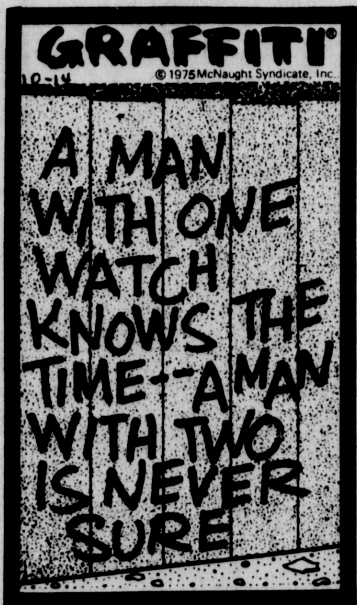

Apollo Joint Vocational School District—Auglaize County: Minster Local, New Bremen Local, New Knoxville Local, St. Marys City; Mercer County: Celina City, Coalwater Exempted Village, Marion Local, Southwest Local, St. Henry Consolidated Local.

Ford compiles spending cut list

WASHINGTON (AP) — The White House has compiled a list of $28 billion in proposed budget cuts to strengthen President Ford's hand in insisting that Congress combine a tax cut with matching cuts in federal spending.

However, Treasury Secretary William E. Simon denied today that the list includes cuts in Social Security or government programs for school lunches, child care, medicare or veterans benefits. The list, he said, is "not a cutback."

Paul H. O'Neill, deputy director of the Office of Management and Budget, said Monday an inch-thick compilation of proposed reductions is being circulated privately to Cabinet officers and agency heads for their comment.

Asked today whether the proposed cuts were in school lunches, Social Security, child care, medicare or veterans benefits, Simon declared: "No, that's not the case."

He said the proposed reductions are for "slowing down the growth of federal spending. They are not a cutback."

Absentee ballots problem

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Not all of Ohio's county boards of election are able to meet a requirement to have absentee ballots ready 45 days before elections, Ohio's chief elections official says.

Secretary of State Ted W. Brown said he doesn't believe the problem is widespread, but that particular local problems do cause the situation to arise from time to time.

He said he doesn't feel his office is bound to try to enforce the requirement, since in most instances problems come up with regard to the certification of local candidates and issues which he doesn't oversee.

"The only thing that would prompt this office to take action is a complaint that someone had been disenfranchised as a result of the requirement not being met," Brown said.

IT'S TIME FOR A CHANGE!

Why would the Federal Government offer $657,000.00 to Washington C.H. for Phase II of the proposed sewer project without a signed contract, or approval from the majority of city council?

Why was it never in the paper or on the radio station that prior to the special meeting scheduled by council chairman Ralph Cook on September 26, 1975 a SIGNED copy authorizing Phase II of the proposed project was displayed? Is this the way council is being run, by Cook, without the approval of other members? It is time for a change.

Doesn't it seem strange that the EPA 'would have the money here' before it's been approved by council?

Why do the engineers say if we don't go with phase II of the sewer project we will owe $228,000.00? . . . when we entered into phase I of the project. (Signed by the council chairman Bud Patton in 1972) we understood the expenditure of Phase I to be only $15,000. And, the Federal government was to pay 75 per cent, the city 25 per cent.

If we can't get the 75 per cent Federal Share for Phase I without going for Phase II at an estimate of $900,000.00 . . . then it would appear with the acceptance of phase II we are automatically obligating the residents of Washington C.H., for an ESTIMATED $2,400,000.00 sewer project.

There are many more things going on at City Hall which the people are not aware of. When I am elected, I will listen to the people and also tell the people just what is happening. I DON'T FEEL I AM THE ONE WHO KNOWS WHAT IS BEST FOR THE PEOPLE. . . I feel the people know what is best and I will abide by their recommendations.

White-collar crime shows sharp spurt

WASHINGTON (AP) — Atty. Gen. Edward H. Levi says the documentation of white-collar crime has undergone a "disturbing increase" in the past year but that the Justice Department doesn't need a special unit to prosecute corporate crimes.

Levi announced his decision against forming a permanent division within the department in a letter to four members of Congress and consumer advocate Ralph Nader. The letter was released Monday.

"It may be debated, of course, whether (the increase in documented white-collar crime) reflects a deterioration in standards of corporate conduct or an increase in the reporting of violations or more strenuous efforts to ferret out and prosecute violations," Levi wrote to Sen. Lee Metcalf, D-Mont., a cosigner of the original request.

Levi went on to say the department's existing criminal, tax and antitrust divisions are adequate to cope with white-collar crime. He said a special advisory committee within the department "currently is reviewing existing programs and efforts in this complex field and is making recommendations for some procedural changes."

The attorney general said the committee, created earlier this year, includes 11 top department officials, including the director of the FBI and the U.S. attorney for the Southern District of New York.

To demonstrate what he said was the Justice Department's concern about white-collar crime, Levi pointed to recent convictions of a corporation and its two top officers on tax fraud charges, and he wrote that "at least 11 other major corporations are currently under investigation for similar offenses."

Levi also said "in excess of 50 investigations in the area of illegal political contributions" are currently pending at Justice. Levi did not name any of the corporations or officers.

Nader later issued a statement saying Levi's "response does not reflect a sense of urgency over our corporate crime wave."

"A crescendo of illegal business disclosures since the beginning of the year should lead Mr. Levi to let us know his own views on this epidemic..."

In their Aug. 22 letter to Levi, Nader and the lawmakers wrote, "An unprecedented wave of corporate illegality has been sweeping the business community." They asked that a new division be given authority to "investigate and prosecute a wide range of business crime, from mail fraud to regulatory offenses to illegal distribution of political contributions or bribes, here or abroad, by corporate officers or their agents."

Reps. Benjamin Rosenthal, D-N.Y.; Toby Moffett, D-Conn.; and Thomas Downey, D-N.Y., and Nader associate Mark Green also signed the letter.

Death of youth without permission

FRESNO, Calif. (AP) — The parents of a youth who died after his life-support system was shut off say they did not give doctors permission to unhook a respirator that kept their son alive for 18 days after his brain was destroyed through medical error.

Mr. and Mrs. Pete Uribe said they did not know how their 19-year-old son, Sammy, died until they read in the newspapers that the hospital had disconnected the respirator that had kept him breathing.

In a report filed Sept. 11 by Valley Medical Center's chief resident surgeon, Dr. Michael Freeman, the hospital said Sammy's brain died during surgery when an anesthesiologist placed an oxygen tube in his esophagus instead of his trachea, cutting off the oxygen supply to his brain for about five minutes.

The report said doctors informed the Uribes that Sammy's brain had died and that the couple agreed the respirator should be shut off.

The hospital said the mistake made by the anesthesiologist, who has since been fired, was "contributory" to Sammy's death.

George Carter, attorney for the Uribes, said the couple "never consented to taking him off (the respirator). They were told that the hospital had decided after a staff meeting to turn off the respirator."

In similar cases in Ohio and New Jersey, parents initiated requests to unhook life-support systems from their comatose children, only to be refused by doctors who maintain they have no legal right to do so.

In Sammy Uribe's case, the parents say they did not ask doctors to let their son die.

Sammy was taken to the hospital on Aug. 10 for treatment of a stab wound in the abdomen. It was when surgeons were trying to repair his punctured stomach that the mistake was made by the anesthesiologist.

He was placed on a mechanical respirator to keep him alive until Aug. 28, when a medical center doctor shut the machine off and Sammy died, according to Freeman's report.

"This is a strange case," said attorney George Carter. "The parents came to me after they found out, not from the hospital but through the newspapers, how their son died."

"It's a unique situation when it's the hospital's negligence that causes the boy to be in the position he's in, then they make the decision to take him off the respirator."

Lauren Bowtyz, associate administrator at the hospital, declined to comment on the case, except to say, "We would not take him off the respirator unless it was absolutely warranted."

Actually, whether the Uribe consented to termination of the life-support system is legally a moot point because California law prohibits ending any patient's life, even if parents give their consent, Carter said. And in Sammy's case, his parents could not have made such a decision for him because he was not a minor, Carter said.

In recent weeks, the legal and medical controversy over whether death can be defined as cessation of brain activity has become more heated. Death is generally defined as when breathing stops.

Medical technology can keep a patient "alive" by mechanically regulating breathing and essential bodily functions, but once the brain is destroyed there is no way to return the patient to a normal life. The patient, legally alive, becomes a "vegetable" incapable of thought or communication.

John Denver wins top music award

NASHVILLE, Tenn. (AP) — John Denver says he really does thank God he's a country boy.

"I grew up listening to Hank Williams," Denver said from Perth, Australia, after being voted the country music industry's entertainer of the year and also winning its award for the best song of 1975, "Back Home Again."

Denver, touring in Australia, was the only person to win two awards at the Country Music Association's ninth annual presentation Monday night at the Grand Ole Opry House. Altogether, he had been nominated for five of the association's ten awards. His other nominations were for best single of the year, best album and best male vocalist.

The best single award went to Freddy Fender for "Before the Next Teardrop Falls" and the album award went to Ronnie Milsap for "A Legend in My Time."

Waylon Jennings was named the best male vocalist, with the best female vocalist award going to Dolly Parton. Veteran Grand Ole Opry star Minnie Pearl was inducted as the newest member of the Country Music Hall of Fame.

"I really do think of myself as a country entertainer," Denver, who lives in Aspen, Colo., said in a telephone interview following the ceremonies. "I think I'm a really good example of the involvement that's going on in country music."

Denver, in his mid 30s, was the biggest selling popular artist in the United States last year. His last two albums have sold more than three million copies each.

It was in 1971 that Denver had his first million-selling record with "Take Me Home Country Roads." Prior to that he was best known for writing "Leaving on a Jet Plane," a song that Peter, Paul and Mary made famous in 1969.

In the Northeast, showers and thundershowers had ended except along the North Atlantic coast and in New Jersey. There were some thundershowers in eastern and southern Florida.

Nighttime skies were partly cloudy to cloudy over the northern half of the nation, with mostly clear skies over the southern half.

During the early nighttime hours, two inches of snow fell at Dillon, Mont. Butte, Mont., added one inch for a total depth of five inches.

Rain, occasionally mixed with snow, was reported from eastern Montana into North Dakota and Northern Wyoming. Some rain and snow showers lingered in southwest Idaho, northern Utah and southwest Wyoming.

Temperatures around the nation at 3 a.m. (EDT) ranged from 25 at Price, Utah, to 81 at Melbourne, Fla.

The forecast for today called for rain from the upper Mississippi Valley into the Dakotas. Some snow will be mixed with the rain in the western Dakotas. Snow was expected in Montana and in the higher elevations of Colorado and Wyoming.

A few showers and thundershowers will occur in portions of the central and southern Plains, and along the eastern Gulf Coast into southern Florida.

Stocks post small gain

NEW YORK (AP) — Hopes for an improved New York City financial outlook kept the stock market moving ahead in fairly active trading today.

The Noon Dow Jones average of 30 industrials was up 5.11 at 842.88, and gainers outweighed losers by about a 3-1 margin on the New York Stock Exchange.

Philip Morris was actively traded, rising 3/8 to 52 1/4. The company reported that its third quarter and nine months earnings reached record levels.

At the American Stock Exchange, the market value index slipped .01 to 84.45.

Sedco Jumped 2 1/2 to 26 after a delayed opening. The company said Monday a subsidiary had received a $108.3 million Iranian pipeline contract.

The NYSE's composite index of all its listed common stocks showed a .26 gain at 47.59.x

Economic meet shows good progress

PARIS (AP) — The day-old preparatory conference of industrial and developing nations has already made "great progress," the head of the American delegation reports.

"I'm very optimistic that we will come out with a new understanding," Undersecretary of State Charles Robinson said after the delegates agreed Monday to launch a 27-nation conference in Paris Dec. 16 with a new economic order for the non-Communist world as its long-range goal.

Robinson said the delegates would try today to resolve "some differences of view" over the scope of four working commissions that will be set up by the December conference to carry on the debate and negotiations concerning new international economic arrangements.

The industrialized and Third World blocs agreed in diplomatic negotiations after another preparatory meeting broke down six months ago that the commissions will deal with energy, raw materials, development and financial matters. But Robinson said the United States would like the mandate of the commissions to be very broad.

"We believe it would be a mistake to define too precisely in advance exactly what the limits would be," he explained.

"I think there are others who feel — and for good reasons, and I accept the validity of their arguments — that perhaps we should be more precise; we should more clearly define the mandate of the individual commissions."

Robinson said he expected the discussions to clarify the differences and then resolve them.

"I don't anticipate any serious problem," he added.

Syria enters arms market to cut Soviet dependence

WASHINGTON (AP) — Syria reportedly is trying to reduce its dependence on Russia by buying arms from France and moving toward possible purchase of U.S. weapons captured by North Vietnam.

If Syria were to open up major arms sources outside of Russia, it could lead to a significant reduction in Moscow's influence in Damascus, U.S. officials say.

U.S. intelligence sources say Syria recently bought about 15 helicopters and some 2,000 antitank missiles from France in its first major arms purchase from a Western country in more than 10 years.

These sources also say that Syria, acting through a British firm, has been sounding out Hanoi about the possibility of acquiring some of the hundreds of U.S. tanks and artillery pieces taken by North Vietnamese forces from the conquered South Vietnamese army.

Any such purchases presumably would be financed by wealthy Arab countries, sources say.

The Soviet Union has provided Syria about $1 billion worth of military equipment, including advanced jet fighters and missiles, since the 1973 Mideast war.

Egypt also has been heavily reliant on Russia for its arms for many years, but increasingly has turned toward the West because of policy differences between the two countries.

Ruff in for Ruth

It is of little more than passing interest that after serving for about a year as the third special Watergate prosecutor Henry S. Ruth is giving way to a part-time successor. The announcement stirred scarcely a ripple in the press, suggesting the degree to which the Watergate scandal has receded into history.

Ruth succeeded Leon Jaworski, who presided with exemplary toughness over the Watergate inquiries after Archibald Cox had been dismissed on orders of then President Nixon. Now Ruth is to join the Urban Institute and his place will be taken by Charles F. Ruff of the Georgetown University law school faculty.

It is expected that Ruth will need to spend only part of his time in the special prosecutor's office as its major investigations of political scandal wind down. This is in marked contrast to conditions in the early days of the inquiry and prosecution, when the special prosecutor's staff was straining every nerve to keep up with complex and fast-breaking developments.

The progression of events is worth recalling. As the dimensions of this greatest political scandal in the nation's history began to take shape, the distinguished former solicitor general, Archibald Cox, was named special Watergate prosecutor in May, 1973. He lasted until October 20, when he rejected a proposed administration compromise on the disputed White House tapes.

That led to the so-called "Saturday night massacre" in the Justice Department. Attorney General Elliott Richardson resigned rather than fire Cox on Nixon's orders, and his deputy William D. Ruckelshaus was fired when he, too, refused to obey; Cox was finally dismissed by Solicitor General Richard H. Bork, who became acting attorney general. A footnote to this episode: in November a federal district court judge ruled the Cox dismissal illegal but Cox did not seek to regain the position.

His stated reason was that this would divert attention from the surprisingly vigorous investigation then being conducted by his successor, Leon Jaworski, a conservative Texas Democrat who proved to be not as amenable as Nixon had evidently expected. In fact it was Jaworski whose bulldog pursuit of those involved in the Watergate coverup played a decisive part in bringing about Nixon's eventual resignation in disgrace to avoid impeachment and trial.

It was an exciting though harrowing sequence of events. Now the boiling Watergate caldron has settled down to the barest simmer, and Ruff will be able to direct the once-frenzied affairs of the special prosecutor's office on a part-time basis. Most Americans, we think, will be glad that it has come to this at last.

THESE DAYS By John Chamberlain

$100 billion energy development lemon?

The Rockefeller-Ford proposal to create a $100-billion Energy Independence Authority to make loans and grants for projects that might lead to significant breakthroughs in energy production made for good headlines. But why does anybody suppose that giving government more money to throw around would be any more productive in the energy field than in a whole variety of things, from education to regulating the railroads or promoting agricultural health through a policy of crop control?

Sen. John Tower of Texas has called the whole idea a "$100-billion lemon," and that just about sums it up.

The truth is that peacetime governments are only good at applying the brakes. To get anywhere, a bureaucratic Energy Independence Authority would have to be granted the power to override existing national and state policy in a score of fields.

It could not, for example, set off an oil-liberating atomic explosion under a Colorado shale oil pool without first getting permission of local legislators to do it. If it wanted to lure oil drillers to the continental shelf off New England or New Jersey, it would first have to deal with the environmental impact boys who have effectively stood in the way of sinking exploratory offshore wells in the Atlantic since the '60s.

To help with building a gas pipeline across Canada from Alaska to the American Middle West, an Independence Authority would have to make special agreements with Canadian governments. So it would become involved in foreign policy, which would bring it back to the U.S. Senate for "advise and consent."

What Nelson Rockefeller and Jerry Ford should be complaining about is the way our government has been throwing roadblocks in the way of potential energy producers ever since the environmentalists first learned how to spell the word "ecology." The government possesses title to lots of acreage that might be utilized for coal and oil production. It could make leases to exploit fossil fuels dependent on the acceptance of reserve clauses that would guarantee sound restoration of the landscape. It could exact a penalty charge to cover offshore oil spills, and it could insist on the careful application of every brown safety engineering precaution in the book.

This column has been tremendously interested in the problem of making the U.S. self-sufficient in energy by the mid-1980s. It has had assurance from chemical company executives that so-called tertiary recovery of oil from spent wells would happen naturally if the price of "old oil" were permitted to rise in accordance with market competition. The estimated practical oil reserve of the continental U.S. would be automatically doubled by the decontrol of existing wells.

In the early days of the oil crisis we pursued many a story about the possible use of vegetation-derived methanol as a gasoline extender. The state of Nebraska has done something in this field, turning old corn cobs and lumber mill refuse into a "gasohol" for use in state automobiles.

But the Nebraska idea hasn't taken hold. The Arab embargo didn't last long enough to force the oil companies to experiment with chemically derived fuel extenders from the diseased spruce trees of Maine and other available "waste" sources. If the government were to give a tax rebate to companies to be used for the promotion and exploitation of gasoline substitutes, surely we'd begin to get some motion here.

The restitution of profits to coal and oil companies for plow-back developmental purposes has been almost completely overlooked by our punitive-minded Congress. We don't need a $100-billion bureaucracy to spread money around for coal liquefaction plants and "in situ" shale oil extra tion. All that is needed to get such projects under way is to let specific companies keep their own money provided they put it to research and development use.

We talk about "crash programs" to unlock energy sources. The only crash program we need is to untie the hands of people who are now prevented by law from doing what it takes to let capital and technological ingenuity flow where they are needed.

Ohio Perspective

State sick leave abused

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — State workers collected $24.8 million in sick leave pay last year and during certain pay periods the number of employees absent, supposedly because of illness, amounted to one-third of the total payroll.

Those are the findings of the Governor's Cost Control Council which recently completed a 12-week study of state spending.

"The cost of sick leave when related to the total payroll, averages 4.4 per cent, a level of expenditure that would be intolerable in the private sector," the Little Hoover report said.

"Existing abuse of the sick leave privilege is a burden of significant magnitude in government," the cost council added. "Because of existing absenteeism, many agencies are over-staffed."

In a sampling of two-week pay periods, the cost experts said they found sick leave ranging from 24.6 per cent to 34.2 per cent of the more than 70,000-employee state payroll.

Administrative services director Richard L. Krabach, who is in charge of implementing the cost councils recommendations, said sick leave "would be one of the priorities," among the 590 proposals.

"We have cut it down by just letting all employees know we're damned concerned," the head of the state's major personnel agency said.

Krabach said an attempt to require doctor's excuses from employees claiming illness was set aside after the state attorney general issued an unfavorable opinion on such a move.

The cost council suggests the development and administration of a statewide program to improve job attendance. "Each agency should be held accountable for its performance under the proposed program," the cost report said.

All levels of management should be indoctrinated with the necessity for regular attendance and "the fact that management performance is measured, in part, by the attendance records of subordinates," it continues.

The council says the support of the governor should be enlisted for the effort and that incentives or recognition should be developed for good attendance.

A first year objective of a 4 per cent average absence rate should be established, the council said, with a second year goal of 3.75 per cent.

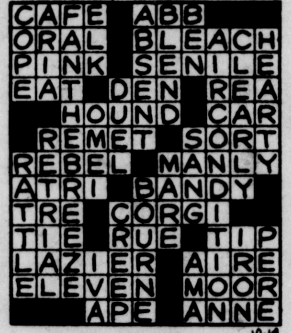

"Implementation should reduce sick leave usage by 29 per cent for 109 agencies where payments under the current policy exceed 4 per cent of the total payroll. The average saving is estimated at almost $3.8 million based on expenditures," the cost report said.

Metals Park east of Cleveland in Geauga County, Ohio, has a semi-circular building surmounted by the largest geodesic dome of its type in the world. It is headquarters of the American Society for Metals.

Dear Abby:

ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

Teen troubled by pill myths

DEAR ABBY: I am 16 and my boyfriend is 18. We've been going steady for two years and hope to marry some day.

Here's the problem: I used to take birth control pills, but my boyfriend made me stop because he said he heard they could cause blood clots, make my hair fall out and cause lots of other terrible side effects.

We've continued to have sex relations, but nothing has happened. He thinks I may be sterile from the Pill. Is that possible?

We want children some day, and now I am worried that there is something wrong with me and that if I ever do have a child, it will be deformed.

I am terribly worried about myself, Abby. Please help me. I have no mother to ask, and I don't know any doctors.

WORRIED IN PA.

DEAR WORRIED: You need professional counseling. If your school offers that service, please take advantage of it. If not, your local Planned Parenthood office can help you. You may be worrying needlessly, but it's important that you learn the facts.

DEAR ABBY: I have been married to a wonderful woman for nearly two years. We get along very well, but I have one complaint. The only night she lets me make love to her is Thursday because she gets her hair done every Friday.

Any suggestions?

HUNGRY FOR LOVE

DEAR HUNGRY: When the time for "making love" depends upon when your wife has her hair appointment it's time to make an appointment with a marriage counselor!

DEAR ABBY: SEEN IT ALL complained about a 68-year-old neighbor lady who bent over to plant pansies in a short dress and exposed her uncovered behind.

Another reader suggested SEEN IT take a picture of the pansy planter in living color, enlarge it and send it to her so she could see herself as others see her.

Let me tell you how WE cured a similar problem.

Several years ago, we moved into a really nice section of town. Imagine my surprise when my two boys (ages 10 and 12) came running into the house to tell me there were naked people next door!

I couldn't believe it, so I went outside to see for myself. It was true. There were three naked children running around completely naked. Their mothers were sitting nearby at a picnic table, naked from the waist up and nursing their babies out in the open yard.

I was speechless! I gave my boys firm instructions to play in their own front yard until the situation improved. My husband and I discussed it, immediately bought a six-foot-high redwood fence and put it up.

When I ran into this neighbor on the street, I told her WHY we had put up the fence, and she said, "The human body is beautiful and should be on display like Greek statues."

After I gave her a piece of my mind, she added, "I notice that you hang your wash outside, which makes the whole neighborhood look like a Dogpatch!"

How's that for nerve? Anyway, a fence is the answer to improve the view-not a picture. YORK, PA

Farm Bureau Women make 'glass' tours

The Fayette County Farm Bureau Women's Committee sponsored a tour Thursday by chartered bus to the Viking Glass Company and Pilgrim Glass Company at Huntington, West Virginia and the Blenko Art Glass Co. at Milton, West Virginia.

The group departed from Washington Square Shopping Center for the scenic fall drive through southern Ohio. A sack lunch was eaten at the Viking Glass Co. at noon, after which the group toured the factory and gift shop. The next stop was the Pilgrim Glass Co. where an interesting story of the making of glass was heard while watching the process from the observation room. From there, the group proceeded to the Blenko Art Glass Company where they saw a display of stained glass windows in a picturesque setting, as well as the making of glass and browsed through the display area and gift shop.

The return trip was highlighted by a stop for the evening meal at the Lake White Club near Waverly where a fried chicken dinner was enjoyed.

Plans for the trip were made by women's committee chairman Mrs. Art Schaefer and tour co-chairmen Mrs. Dwight Duff and Mrs. Dale Ritenour.

Those enjoying the day included Martha Allen, Helen Bock, Nellie Burton, Miriam Bush, Mabel Cannon, Susan Carson, Rose Cleland, Margaret Morrow, Ann Copeland, Betty Craig, Rowena Cummins, Margaret Ehrle, Helen Eiselstein, Cora Grice, Violet Haines, Eleanor Herman, Bessie Hiser, Donna Jean Johnson, Nellie McClure, June Pero, Doris Rife, Ludene Rife, Kathryn Ritenour, Leota Baker, Louise Ritter, Ruth Robinson, Grace Roehm, Helen Browning, Doris Stephenson, Toni Taylor, Betty Thompson, Virginia Thomson, Helen Vance, Dorothy Westfall, Helen June Waddle, Esther Wilson, Martha Rose Wilson, Nellie Zimmerman, Mrs. Schaefer, Mrs. Duff and Mrs. Ritenour.

The next meeting of the Farm Bureau Women's Committee will be Wednesday, November 5, at 2:00 p.m. at the home of Mrs. Dwight Duff and will feature a program on crafts presented by Mrs. Gilbert Biddle.

Alpha Theta Chapter meets

The Alpha Theta Chapter of Epsilon Alpha Theta Sorority met in the home of Mrs. Ron Ratliff. The monthly business - social meeting was enjoyed by all as it was a 'come-as-you-are-party.'

Mrs. Ratliff, president, opened the meeting by reciting the Opening Ritual. She then led the group in the discussion of several items of interest.

For the philanthropic project, the members will make and sell a Bicentennial quilt.

Mrs. Ray Loudner, social chairman, announced there will be a fall husband's party Nov. 1 in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Jerry Hoppes. A carry-in supper and square dance will be featured.

Several members brought guests for the evening: Mrs. Ron Warner, Mrs. Bill Marting and Mrs. Chuck Wisler.

Following the social part of the evening, which included several rounds of "Match Game," a dessert course was served to Mrs. Mike Barker, Mrs. John Bernard, Mrs. Clyde Cramer, Mrs. Jerry Hoppes, Mrs. Loudner, Mrs. Charles McIlvaine, Mrs. Jack Merriman, Mrs. Tom Rankin, Mrs. Ratliff, Mrs. Mike Vrettos, Mrs. Fred Zechman, Mrs. Fred Hoppes, Mrs.

Richard Hill, Mrs. Jim Oughterson, Mrs. Jack Moats, Mrs. Richard Wood, Mrs. Warner, Mrs. Marting and Mrs. Wisler.

The next meeting will be Tuesday, Oct. 21, in the home of Mrs. McIlvaine.

Committee named by Auxiliary

Seventeen members of Fayette Eagles Auxiliary No. 423 were present for a potluck supper and meeting held in the Aerie home Monday evening.

During the business meeting which followed, a donation of $50.00 was made to the "Peck of Wee Ones," as school for the mentally retarded under six years old in Columbus. This is the state project of the Auxiliary.

A committee composed of Miss Kay Riley, Mrs. Raymond Ater, Mrs. Virginia Simison and Miss Lorie Westfall was appointed. Prizes were won by Mollie Combs and Mary Jo Hunter.

Mrs. Albert Hyer was in charge of the closing. The next meeting will be held at 8 p.m. Oct. 27 at the Eagles Home.

An evening of nostalgia prevailed at Fayette County's first Bi-Centennial Ball Saturday evening sponsored by the Business and Professional Women's Club of Washington Court House in Mahan Hall. Mrs. Nathan Bolton, BPW Club president, welcomed and thanked the guests for their support of this social event of the bicentennial year. Special thanks also was given to Mrs. Maynard Joseph, co-chairman of the BPW Bicentennial committee. Mrs. Bolton read a letter from Governor James A. Rhodes sending his regrets and wishing the Ball to be a great success.

Mrs. Martin Crone presided at the guest book. Miss Marie Marchant and Mrs. Russell Goldsberry were in charge of tickets. Mrs. Wilbur Morgan and Mrs. Smith Mace were the evening's hostesses.

The festivities began when a horse-drawn carriage transported guests from their cars to the "colonial ballroom". Upon entering the Mahan Building small portraits of the country's 37 presidents welcomed the guests with an opening color theme of red, white and blue. The ballroom took on a most elegant effect as two large columns graced the entrance to the dance floor where a crystal chandelier gave way to the charm of a long ago colonial atmosphere where ladies in old-fashioned dresses and bonnets waltzed to the music of the Al Meyers Band from Columbus. The waltz was a portion of some special Bicentennial music of the evening.

Another feature of the Bicentennial music was a Sing-Along coming up through the years with projections on the wall of the music and characters of that era. The walls of the transformed "ballroom" with a scenic view of an old home and rolling hills gave way to the peaceful life one so often associates with colonial times. The American flag and George Washington's picture were in view at the Ball as they graced a corner of the floor reminding all of their heritage. Tables were covered with silvery paper with an eagle and red, white and blue hat adding to the patriotic theme.

Combination Meal

WHAT'S FOR BRUNCH? How about Potato Tamale Casserole; a meal-in-one, combining meat, potatoes, vegetables.

By JOAN O'SULLIVAN

BRUNCH, that wonderfully relaxing meal that bounces breakfast and lunch together, is seldom eaten alone or in a hurry. Usually, it's a social occasion set somewhere between eleven o'clock in the morning and two o'clock in the afternoon.

What to serve for brunch? Imaginative menus with emphasis on easy preparation so the hostess doesn't have to fuss. Any of today's recipes could fill a luncheon bill of fare nicely:

Start brunch with a fresh fruit compote. For the main dish try a Mexican-inspired Potato Tamale Casserole. There's no fuss with the potatoes if you use frozen shredded hash browns. Round out the meal with a marinated vegetable salad and slices of broiled pineapple. End it on a sweet note by serving coffee cake or an ice yeast bread:

POTATO TAMALE CASSEROLE

1 package (12 ounces) frozen shredded hash browns
1½ teaspoons salt
1 tablespoon oil
½ pound ground chuck
½ cup frozen chopped onions
1 can (16 ounces) stewed tomatoes
1 cup whole kernel corn
1½ teaspoons chili powder
2 teaspoons cornstarch
1 tablespoon cold water
1 tablespoon melted butter
¼ cup grated Cheddar cheese
Thaw and separate potatoes; mix with ½ teaspoon salt.
Heat oil. Add meat and brown, adding onion when about half cooked. Stir in tomatoes, corn, chili powder and remaining 1 teaspoon salt; simmer 5 minutes. Mix cornstarch with cold water; stir into the hot mixture. Cook and stir 2 or 3 minutes longer. Remove from heat.

Preheat oven to 350 F.
Set aside ½ cup of the potatoes. Layer half the remaining potatoes in a greased (1½-quart) baking dish. Cover with half the meat mixture. Repeat layers, topping with a circle of the reserved potatoes. Drizzle potatoes with melted butter and sprinkle with cheese. Bake for 30 to 35 minutes, until bubbly hot. Makes 5 or 6 servings.

Sausages and crisp french fries lightly glazed with crabapple jelly make a great brunch dish, nicely set off with broiled tomato halves. This menu couldn't be easier — yet guests will marvel at your delicious creativity.

GLAZED POTATOES AND PORK LINKS

1 package (12 ounces) frozen crinkle cut French fries
8 pork sausage links
¼ teaspoon salt
3 tablespoons crabapple jelly
Prepare frozen potatoes in oven as package directs. While potatoes heat, cook sausage links. When potatoes are thoroughly heated, remove from oven and sprinkle with salt. Add jelly, tossing gently until jelly melts and coats potatoes. Serve at once, with sausages. Makes 4 servings.

POTATO TOT BEEF SKILLET

¼ cup oil
2½ cup frozen bite-size potato nuggets
1 can (7 ounces) corned beef
½ cup fresh frozen chopped onions
½ cup grated processed Swiss cheese
Heat oil in large skillet. Add potato nuggets; cook for 5 minutes. Break corned beef into chunks. Push potatoes to one side of skillet and add corned beef and onions. Saute until onions are golden. Add cheese, tossing gently with potatoes and corned beef. Serve at once. Makes 3 to 4 servings.

Veteran's Day plans made by Auxiliary

Preliminary plans were laid for "Veterans' Day" when Fayette County Auxiliary No. 2291, Veterans of World War I met at the American Legion Hall recently.

Following the pattern of former years, Auxiliary members will join with the Barracks in ceremonies at the monument on the courthouse lawn at 11:00 a.m. November 11th. This year's observance takes on more significance since President Ford has signed Senate Bill 331 returning Veteran's Day from a meaningless Monday to the original date of the signing of the Armistice 57 years ago.

The meeting presided by the president, Mrs. Nellie Kennedy, opened with the ritualistic prayer repeated in unison. Mrs. Lucy Sells, patriotic instructor pro tem, led the Pledge of Allegiance.

Reports, communications and information on shutins were heard after which round robin cards were circulated and signed.

Mrs. Clarence Hackett, secretary, read the General Orders from National Auxiliary President Ruth Hanneman, who projected the 1976 enrollment now open for eligible members. Her Year's theme is "Build a Stairway to the Stars".

Members were reminded of the upcoming District 7 Fall meeting at Gahanna on October 19th. Following the registration at 1 p.m. in the I.O.O.F. Hall the meeting opens at 1:30 p.m. Later there will be a social hour with refreshments served.

Mrs. Sells, legislative chairman, in her remarks stated that among legislation considered by both House and Senate Veterans Affairs committee is revision in the current pension law. Senator Hartke's bill proposes automatic increases in line with cost of living and guarantees against cuts. His action was taken since tables produced in recent Veteran's Administration study did not coincide with the conclusion that all is well with the aging veteran and their widows. She further mentioned that 1975 Social Security increases will not affect V.A. pensions until 1976. Hopes are that the national outlook will be brighter next year. Another congressional bill authorizes an eight per cent across the board increase in monthly pension benefits and a $300 increase in the annual income limitation, determining the amount of pension a veteran or widow may receive.

"America Begins at Home", the month's Americanism subject was presented by Mrs. Hackett.

After the closing prayer in unison, members adjourned to meet again on November 13.

McNair Women plan bazaar

The Willing to Help Class of McNair Presbyterian Church motored to Duffs in Wilmington for luncheon. The hostess was Mrs. Howard Dellinger.

Following the luncheon a short business meeting was held in the private dining room. President Mrs. Pauline Scott presided, and Mrs. Ralph Michael gave devotions. She read "Why Worry." Her article "Standing By" was given, using scripture from the Book of Luke. This followed with prayer. Reports were read and approved. Roll call was answered with Scripture verses by nine members and one visitor Mrs. Buell Brown. Those attending the dinner were Mrs. Marshall Bailey, Mrs. Dellinger, Mrs. Hazel Hidy, Mrs. Ted Long, Mrs. Michael, Mrs. Martin O'Cull, Mrs. Edgar Richardson, Mrs. Scott, Mrs. Jane Wieland and Mrs. Brown.

A bazaar and bake sale is being planned by all McNair Women to be held in the church basement on Saturday, Nov. 1.

The class made a contribution to the Leukemia Fund. During the social hour, Mrs. Bailey and Hazel Hidy won favors.

TV Viewing

By JAY SHARBUTT
AP Television Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — Maid Marian, in civilian life an actress named Misty Rowe, left Sherwood Forest last week to come to Gotham to publicize her new ABC series called "When Things Were Rotten."

Forsooth, she should have brought along the sheriff of Nottingham, no matter how mean he is to Robin Hood & Co. in the new show.

She said a tall, heavy-set lady mugger had shoved her up against a wall and stolen her wallet while she, Miss Rowe, was in the ladies' room of a midtown New York department store putting on fresh makeup.

For Miss Rowe, a blonde, gentle spirit born in San Gabriel, Calif., the incident made her first stay in Fun City memorable in a way she'd just as soon forget.

To top things off, she added somewhat disbelievingly, when she told a sales clerk of the theft moments after the mugger fled, the clerk commenced talking to her as if she had no smarts.

"I told her my wallet had been robbed and she said, 'Where was it?'" Miss Rowe recalled. "I said it was in my purse. She says, 'Where was the purse?' I said, 'On the floor, next to my packages.'"

"She says, 'On the floor?' and she starts yelling and screaming at me. She says, 'You ought to know better than to leave your purse on the floor in New York.'"

The young actress shrugged, then laughed infectiously, "What could I say? I just told her this was my first time in New York. I didn't know."

She appeared to have recovered nicely, perhaps because she was headed that evening to Nashville, Tenn., a somewhat less abrasive city to tape new segments for "Hee Haw," in which she has appeared for four years.

Another aid to recovery is the fact she has the starring role in a soon-to-be-released movie called "Goodbye, Norma Jean," a film based on the life of the late Marilyn Monroe.

Miss Rowe, who went into acting studies and acting right after graduation from high school in Glendora, Calif., near San Gabriel, has appeared in a number of TV series, including regular shots on "Happy Days."

But she said she landed her Maid Marian role because of what she considers a "horrible picture of me" in a national magazine article about her "Norma Jean" movie.

The old New York Central Station in Conneaut, Ohio, now houses a railroad museum.

Bicentennial celebration topic at Kiwanis meeting

A retired school administrator who is very active in the Central Ohio Bicentennial Organization was the guest speaker at the regular weekly Washington C.H. Kiwanis Club meeting Monday night in the Terrace Lounge.

A former deputy director of the Delaware School District, C.L. Dumaree has since turned his efforts to the bicentennial celebration.

He noted that the anniversary observance was established by an act of Congress, but no provision was made for funding. Money to finance local observances must be generated by the individual communities.

The bicentennial began in March, 1975, and will extend through December of 1976. A three-phase program has been suggested. The first segment includes a study of the historic past, the second is the actual celebration, and the third phase asks Americans to set their sights for a better tomorrow.

Dumaree called attention to the incredible growth of the United States during the past 200 years.

He noted that America has grown from 13 to 50 states. The land area of the country has increased 300 per cent to 3,600,000 square miles. The population has jumped from 2.5 million to 212 million. The gross national product has risen from $3 billion to $1.4 trillion, and the average income has gone from $500 annually to $5,200. He also said that only four per cent of the population now resides in rural areas, and the average family size has declined from six persons to less than three.

Circleville drops despite win

Holy Name leads grid poll

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Cleveland Holy Name will have little time to think about its new Class AA lead in The Associated Press' Ohio high school football ratings.

The unbeaten Cleveland school, replacing Circleville atop the middle division, faces a rugged Class AAA opponent, Parma Padua, Saturday night. Padua suffered its first loss in six games last week, a 36-15 drubbing from Lakewood St. Edward, Ohio's third-ranked big school power.

Holy Name used a 28-0 victory last week over another touted squad, Louisville Aquinas, to springboard from third to first in Class AA. Holy Name has 194 points and a scant four-point lead over Circleville this week.

The Class A race is just as close while Cincinnati Moeller, the Class AAA pacesetter all season, has a more comfortable edge in the ratings by a statewide panel of sports writers and broadcasters.

Newark Catholic, the small school leader, is four points up on runnerup Canal Winchester 223-219. Both are sailing along with 6-0-0 records.

Moeller's edge over Warren Harding has dwindled to 13 points. The Cincinnati school, an impressive 12-7 victor at Cleveland St. Joseph last week, earned 253 points. Harding, also 6-0-0, has 240 points to retain the No. 2 ranking.

The Class AAA poll showed the most stability with the first nine teams keeping their same positions. Only 10th-ranked Canton McKinley, 11th a week ago, is new. The Bulldogs replaced Elyria, now 13th after a loss to Fremont Ross.

Newark kept fourth, East Liverpool fifth, Findlay sixth, Zanesville seventh, Upper Arlington eighth and Kettering Alter ninth. All are unbeaten except Upper Arlington.

New Lexington fell one notch to third in Class AA. Cincinnati Wyoming again was fourth and Wheelersburg fifth. Poland advanced two spots to sixth, Ironton fell one to seventh, Akron St. Vincent-St. Mary was eighth, Ironton ninth and Bellaire No. 10, its first appearance in the Top Ten.

Burton Berkshire leaped from sixth to third in Class A, Cedarville held fourth and Loudonville surged five positions to fifth.

New Philadelphia Tuscarawas

Catholic improved two rungs to sixth, Salineville Southern did the same to take seventh, Middletown Fenwick dropped from third to eighth and Rockford Parkway and Middlefield Cardinal shared ninth. It was the first time both had been in The Top Ten.

Redskins defeat St. Louis Cards

WASHINGTON (AP) — It was like winning one for old Notre Dame.

Joe Theismann and John Pergine came in for a lot of ribbing from their Washington teammates Monday night after they connected on a fake field goal to spark the Redskins to a 27-17 National football League victory over the St. Louis Cardinals in a nationally televised game.

Washington reserve linebacker Rusty Tillman told newsmen as they crowded around Pergine, who caught the 30-yard touchdown pass from Theismann, that he was the primary receiver on the play.

"It was a Notre Dame special," said Tillman. "I was a receiver on the play and he didn't even see me."

Theismann, who was a freshman when Pergine, now a reserve linebacker, was playing for the Fighting Irish, said, "We have a very strong Catholic relationship, even though we're not even Catholic."

The surprise play by the Redskins came early in the third quarter after Terry Metcalf had stunned Washington with a 93-yard return of the second-half kickoff.

"We really caught them with their pants down," said Theismann, third string quarterback and holder on placements. "It was an element-of-surprise play and it worked beautifully. It's an amazing picture when you see your guys down field and nobody around them."

The fake field goal and the running of rookie Mike Thomas, who scored touchdowns from the one and the two-yard lines, moved the Redskins, now 3-1, to within one game of the undefeated Dallas Cowboys in the National Football Conference Eastern Division. The Cardinals are now 2-2.

Cardinals coach Don Coryell said, "What did I think about the fake punt? I didn't like it. What else can you say."

"There was absolutely no doubt in my mind that we would not come back and get 'em," he said. "They were obviously up for the game."

Washington's Mark Moseley and St. Louis' Jim Bakken traded 47-yard field goals before Thomas, from the University of Nevada-Los Vegas, went over from the two for his first touchdown to give the Redskins a 10-3 lead. Metcalf's kickoff return tied the score.

After the Pergine score, Jim Hart put the Cardinals back into a tie with a 48-yard touchdown strike to Mel Gray to tie the knot at 17-17.

In the fourth quarter, however, Thomas dove one yard for his second touchdown of the night and Moseley booted a 34-yard field goal to put the icing on the victory.

And, when the Cardinals appeared to be closing in, linebacker Chris Hanburger picked off a Hart pass to kill a possible score in the fourth quarter.

"The interception by Hanburger was a fine defensive play," said Coryell. "What just went to the well once too often on that one and Hanburger is an intelligent, good defensive player and he read it well."

Duke football teams in four of the past five seasons have finished with either a 6-5 or a 5-6 record.

WFL may fold this week

NEW YORK (AP) — They've paid their bills. As far as is known, they haven't lied to the public or falsified attendance figures.

But the World Football League, fighting a backlash from its horrid first year, is finding that honesty and promptness with the checkbook aren't enough.

And so the league, which last year set records for losing money and missing payrolls, may give in to the apathy it has generated in its cities and fold before the week is out.

Faced with a continuing flow of red ink, the men who run the WFL are meeting in one of this city's corporate skyscrapers. They have three alternatives — fold weaker teams and continue, prop up weaker teams and continue or shut down — and they are expected to select one of them in the next day or two.

Representatives of each of the league's 10 teams met throughout the day and into the night here Monday. They were back at it today, trying to avoid what WFL President Chris Hemminger called the "ultimate negative."

"We are exploring all directions to save the league," Hemminger said during a break in the meetings Monday. "We just don't want the league to go down the tubes."

What the lords of the WFL didn't believe could happen did — fans have stayed away in droves. No team is averaging as much as 20,000, not even Memphis with its celebrated trio of former Miami Dolphins. The league average is 13,323, and falling weekly.

Hemminger said the key to the decision to be made here is not what will happen to the WFL in the rest of 1975, but what the future is in 1976 — "If there isn't a '76, our interest in '75 will terminate."

What the league officials were surveying were a series of discouraging developments that have tumbled on them since they announced a $4 million offer to Joe Namath, which the quarterback soon turned down.

There have been these developments since:

—The Chicago franchise — the one the league said would be its flagship — was folded following failure to raise enough money and after a pair of 3,000-plus crowds.

—Some of the league's so-called package of superstars failed to deliver. Calvin Hill went out early in the season with a knee injury and the man Hawaii signed to replace him, Duane Thomas, was cut last week. Daryle Lamonica quit the Southern California Sun after playing behind a rookie. John Gilliam went back to the National Football League after Chicago was disbanded.

—And the trio of Csonka, Kick and Warfield, the ones responsible for the initial good publicity the league got, have failed to excite the sports consumer. They drew less than 5,000 in Philadelphia.

—Two teams, Jacksonville and Shreveport, have renegotiated salaries downward and Portland has been propped up by league help.

All the while, the people have stayed at home, the league has failed to win a television contract and player salaries under the Hemminger share-the-wealth plan have remained lower than anyone expected.

Bucks hold on to top poll spot

By The Associated Press

The Buckeyes of Ohio State, who routed Big Ten rival Iowa 49-0 over the weekend, have held onto the top spot in The Associated Press college football ratings for the second week in a row.

The top four spots in The AP's ratings, announced Monday, remained the same, with deposed leader Oklahoma second, followed by Southern California and Nebraska.

But there was a new school in the fifth spot. Texas A&M, on the strength of a 38-9 drubbing of Texas Tech, climbed from sixth to fifth, replacing the Texas Longhorns, who dropped to eighth after a 24-17 loss to Oklahoma.

The Buckeyes received 42 first-place votes and 1,066 of a possible 1,100 points from a nationwide panel of 55 sports writers and broadcasters.

Oklahoma received 12 first-place votes and 982 points. Last week, with 62 board members casting ballots, Ohio State received 47 first-place votes to 14 for Oklahoma and outpointed the Sooners 1,178-1,072.

Southern Cal was the only other team receiving a first-place ballot after a 28-10 Pacific-8 Conference victory over Washington State. The Trojans received 844 points. Nebraska blanked Kansas 16-0 and got 649 points.

In other changes in the poll, Alabama moved up from seventh to sixth by trouncing Washington 52-0, and Michigan rose from eighth to seventh with a 16-6 triumph over Michigan State.

Cleveland Cavaliers meet Detroit Pistons

CLEVELAND (AP) — The Cleveland Cavaliers, hopeful of the best season in the history of the franchise, meet the Detroit Pistons here tonight in the only home game of their National Basketball Association preseason schedule.

Jim Brewer, for one, has been anticipating this game with a sense of both excitement and urgency. The 6-foot-9 Cleveland forward thinks he's more ready to play basketball this season than he has ever been.

Blue Lion golfers have excellent day on links

CHILLICOTHE — Things are looking up for the Washington Blue Lion golf team. After suffering through ten straight league losses, the Court House linksters registered their first SCOL win and finished fifth in the 12-team sectional all in the same afternoon.

The Blue Lion golfers tied Unioto last week, but darkness postponed the mandatory sudden-death playoff. Monday, the foursome shot a 19 on the first hole compared to Unioto's 20 and were credited with the win.

Then, the linksters, began sectional play on Chillicothe's V.A. Coarse surprising everyone including their coach with a fifth-place finish.

Four of the Blue Lion's top five golfers are sophomores, and although the future looks bright, the season has been far from successful — until Monday.

The Court House golfers played like veterans in the sectional carding of 344 which was just six strokes behind the winners. The top three teams earned berths in the District tourney next week and Washington C.H. was just two strokes in back of the last team to qualify, Greenfield.

Thornville Sheridan took top honors with a 338 and Waverly finished second with a 339. Greenfield's 342 was good enough for a third-place finish and Portsmouth West took fourth with a 343. Washington C.H. followed and beat out New Lexington, Unioto, Hillsboro, Ironton, Wheelersburg, Nelsonville-York and McDermott Northwest.

Senior Scott Sefton led the Blue Lions with an 82 and finished fourth to Greenfield's Fred Hamilton in individual honors. Hamilton shot a 77.

Scott Lewis shot an 84, John Moore carded an 87. Greg Tillett finished with a 90 and Gary Fisher shot a 94 to round out the Court House scoring.

The Blue Lions finish up the season Thursday at the Washington Country Club against Unioto.

Congress eyes Rozelle rule

WASHINGTON (AP) — Congress hears the pros and cons today of professional sports' reserve system which, basically, binds a player to one team until he is either traded or sold.

One aspect to come under close scrutiny by a House antitrust committee is the National Football League's controversial Rozelle Rule, which provides that the commissioner step in when two clubs can't agree on compensation for a player who has played out his option with one team and has signed with the other.

NFL Commissioner Pete Rozelle along with Kermit Alexander, president, and Ed Garvey, executive director, of the NFL Players Association are to testify before the House judiciary subcommittee on monopolies and commercial law chaired by Rep. Peter J. Rodino Jr., D-N.J.

The one-day hearing, taking place while Congress is on a 10-day vacation, will focus on legislation introduced by Rep. John F. Seiberling, D-Ohio, a committee member, to abolish the reserve system in professional sports.

"This legislation would prohibit a web of invidious practices which team owners and league officials in various sports have instituted to prevent athletes from contracting freely for their skills and services," said Seiberling when he introduced the measure Jan. 29.

Gary Nolan caps personal comeback

CINCINNATI (AP) — When Gary Nolan's world was crumbling in on all sides, he kept the faith. He caps his gallant comeback tonight with a World Series start—a goal he never gave up on.

"Heck, nobody else believed in me, so I just decided to go out and have fun," said the 26-year-old Cincinnati Reds right hander, who faces Boston in Game 3 of the World Series.

Nolan defied the odds, surviving two arm operations, and shook off two years of inactivity to end up in a three-way tie as the Reds' winningest pitcher with 15 victories.

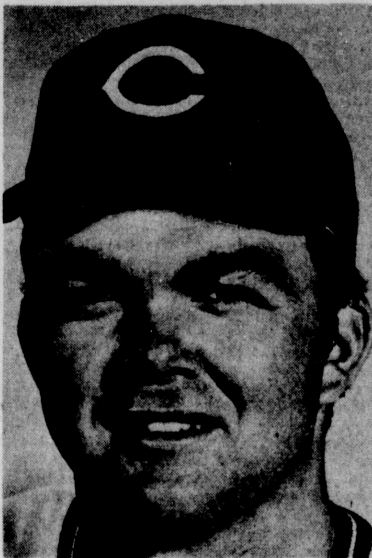

"I'd be lying if I didn't say I was worried. I was wondering if it would be in the cards," said Nolan, who was all but written off by the Reds when he developed arm trouble in 1972.

"I couldn't go around with a grudge. I never got to the point where I was beating up the kids. But it was pretty hard to joke around when the joke was on me," said Nolan.

It would have been easy to be bitter. Nolan carried a stamp of greatness from the start. He and catcher Johnny Bench teamed up in 1967, forming the youngest battery ever in major league baseball. Nolan, 18, and Bench, 19, combined for a 4-3 victory over the Houston Astros.

Nolan was 14-8 that year, 9-4 the next and 18-7 in 1970. He was 12-15 in 1971 when the Reds collapsed, finishing fourth, but he bounced back in 1972, winning 13 against two losses by the All-Star Game.

Then disaster struck. "We were playing Pittsburgh and Roberto Clemente hit a ball out in front of the plate. I fielded it and sidearmed a snap throw to first. I knew something had happened. I made eight or 10 more starts, but with each start I went further and further down hill," recalled Nolan.

"After that I was just trying to get by 90 per cent of the time. I smiled a lot," said Nolan, whose recovery in 1975 included a respectable 3.16 earned run average.

When physicians were unable to detect his arm ailment, Nolan heard whispers that he had lost his courage. "Shoot, they had to be questioning me as a pitcher. Nobody could find what was wrong with me," he said.

A second operation provided the new lease on life. Ironically, it was performed by Dr. John Jobe, team physician for the archrival Los Angeles Dodgers.

CINCINNATI (AP) — The track will be fast and clear for tonight's third World Series game and Cincinnati's thoroughbreds intend to run the Boston Red Sox right out of Riverfront Stadium.

"Everything's different now," said Joe Morgan. "Playing at home is going to make all the difference in the world for us."

At no time in recent World Series history has the home field advantage or weather conditions meant as much as in this one.

The Red Sox, although they split the first two games in Boston over the weekend, had a distinct advantage in their own Fenway Park. Now, they have an obvious disadvantage at Riverfront.

"The ball park had a lot to do with our performance," said Morgan, pointing to a meager total of three runs and a .188 team batting average in the two games.

The Reds, accustomed to their springy artificial turf at home, were slowed to a crawl by Fenway's much slower natural grass, not to mention heavy rains that bothered their famed running game. Also, there was the psychological disadvantage of playing with "The Green Monster," the close left field wall that just about dares right handed hitters to swing at it.

None of the hitters on the Red Sox or the Reds reached the notorious wall on the fly, but that doesn't mean it didn't play a big part in the first two games.

"Mentally, it was kind of hard for us," Morgan pointed out, "because our right-handed hitters were going for that wall. And I think it hurt us because it was always on our minds. Now that we're at Riverfront Stadium, it's going to make a big difference the way our hitters attack the ball. You'll see different hitters here."

The Red Sox will also see different runners in Cincinnati, too, because of the sleek playing surface.

"We can score runs without getting hits," said Morgan, referring to Cincinnati's blinding speed. "The rain sure hurt us in Boston. When you play in the rain, everybody's game is changed. I wish it hadn't rained."

While the artificial turf was expected to help the Reds' offense, it could also be a crucial factor in the Boston defense.

"You need a quicker infielder and outfielder on this surface," Morgan explained. "You have to have that extra step to cut off baseballs. The Red Sox better be quick on this surface or it'll hurt them."

The American League champions, despite Morgan's warning, feel they'll be ready, willing and able to play in the home park of the National League kings.

"Maybe the Reds don't realize it, but we're a great Astroturf team," noted Bill Lee, Boston's fine left-hander. "We play darn good baseball on artificial turf, just ask the Kansas City Royals."

Whitey Herzog, manager of the Royals agrees with that lofty assessment.

"The Red Sox can play on any surface," he said. "They're just a good ball club. The artificial turf at our ballpark in Kansas City didn't bother them much, if at all, this year. They won four out of six in our park."

Obviously thinking about that fast artificial turf, Boston Manager Darrell Johnson named Rick Wise as his starter to oppose Cincinnati's Gary Nolan.

"Rick is basically a high-ball pitcher and that should be helpful," Johnson said. "A sinker ball pitcher forces men to hit the ball on the ground. A highball

Ali says he has only one wife

NEW ORLEANS (AP) — Heavyweight champion Muhammad Ali stepped off a plane here with his wife Belinda and said, "I ain't got but one wife, despite all the publicity."

Ali participates today in ceremonies in the Louisiana Superdome honoring the late Elijah Muhammad, former head of the Black Muslims — the Nation of Islam.

Youngsters in all public and parochial schools in the city had been invited to the Muhammad appreciation day, but New Orleans Roman Catholic Archbishop Philip Hannan withdrew his support because of Ali's recent marital problems.

"The archbishop believes too much of what he reads in the newspapers," said Ali. "This thing about my marriage has been overplayed in the press."

"My wife is standing right here beside me. I ain't got but one wife."

His wife, dressed in flowing Muslim garb, smiled while Ali talked to reporters Monday night.

The fight champ was seen in the company of women other than his wife before and after his bout with Joe Frazier in Manila two weeks ago.

Archbishop Hannan had initially endorsed the Muhammad appreciation day, dedicated to New Orleans' youth.

In rescinding his support, the archbishop said: "The Catholic Church has always been a very strong proponent of the sanctity of marriage and I need not detail how the actions related in the newspaper ... concerning the marital difficulties of Muhammad Ali make it imperative that the Church not be associated with an activity that features him."

pitcher, like Wise, gets many men on pops."

Rico Petrocelli, Boston's third baseman, had the artificial surface on his mind, too.

"I won't be able to play back on their right-handed hitters," Petrocelli said, grimacing. "They run too good."

The Red Sox, hoping to get the feel of the strange ballpark, worked out Monday night under the lights for Game No. 3. The weather for the third game was expected to be warm and clear.

"We're back where we started, all even," Johnson said. "It's a best-of-five series now. We just have to win three."

The fourth and fifth games of this 72nd World Series will also be played in Cincinnati on Wednesday and Thursday nights. If needed, the sixth and seventh games will take place back in Boston next Saturday and Sunday.

"We were a little anxious in Fenway Park," said Johnny Bench, Cincinnati's great catcher. "Everyone wanted to be the key too quickly. Maybe we'll be more relaxed here."

Morgan thinks so, obviously.

"We have more ways to beat you than any other team," said the brilliant second baseman. "Cut off our power and we can beat you with our running. Cut off our running and we can beat you with pitching and defense. You can shut off one area, but no one can shut off all the areas.

More unseasonably warm October weather was in store for the state today with temperatures expected to reach the 80s across the state.

High pressure centered along the Carolina coast this morning and a cold front from Minnesota to Texas have combined to produce a strong southwesterly flow of warm air over the midwest.

During the night, temperatures were in the 60s over most of the state, with the coolest section in the southeast, where readings were in the mid to upper 50s.

The Minnesota low will move across the upper Great Lakes and the cold front will advance eastward to northern Indiana, central Illinois and southeastern Missouri Wednesday. Clouds will increase over Ohio tonight and there is a chance of some showers in advance of the front Wednesday.

Tonight will be mild again but by Wednesday, showers and clouds may hold temperatures down somewhat with highs reaching the 70s.

To encourage the development and maintenance of open space land for the purpose of providing a means of alleviating the environmental impact of expanding areas, laws may be passed to provide that land devoted exclusively to outdoor recreation be valued for real property tax purposes at the current value such land had for such recreational use, notwithstanding the provisions of Section 2 of Article XII except that any such land which is utilized as a commercial or owned, by any organization or person who discriminates against or violates the civil rights of individuals shall be valued in accordance with the provisions of Section 2 of Article XII. Laws shall be passed to provide for the deferral or recoupment of any part of the difference in the dollar value of the real property tax levied in any year on land valued in accordance with its recreational use and the dollar amount of the real property tax which would have been levied upon such land had it been valued for such use as provided by Section 2 of Article XII.

BALLOT LANGUAGE, EXPLANATIONS, AND RESOLUTIONS FOR AMENDMENTS TO THE OHIO CONSTITUTION PROPOSED BY THE GENERAL ASSEMBLY TO BE SUBMITTED TO THE VOTERS AT THE GENERAL ELECTION, NOVEMBER 4, 1975

1 PROPOSED CONSTITUTIONAL AMENDMENT To adopt section 38a of Article II, Ohio Constitution

TO AUTHORIZE LAWS TO BE PASSED WHICH PERMIT LAND THAT IS DEVOTED EXCLUSIVELY TO OUTDOOR RECREATION TO BE VALUED FOR TAX PURPOSES AT ITS CURRENT VALUE FOR RECREATIONAL USE, EXCEPT WHERE SUCH LAND IS OWNED OR CONTROLLED OR OWNED BY AN ORGANIZATION OR PERSON WHO DISCRIMINATES AGAINST OR VIOLATES THE CIVIL RIGHTS OF INDIVIDUALS.

If adopted, the amendment shall take effect January 1, 1976.

(Proposed by Resolution of the General Assembly of the State of Ohio)
A majority affirmative vote is necessary for passage.

YES	SHALL THE PROPOSED AMENDMENT BE ADOPTED?
NO

EXPLANATION OF ISSUE NO. 1

The constitution now requires that all land in the state must be taxed at a uniform rate according to its current market value, rather than according to its use (except agricultural land and the homesteads of permanent residents 65 years of age or older).

This "open-space" amendment would create a fourth exception to the uniform rate by authorizing the General Assembly to enact laws permitting land devoted exclusively to outdoor recreational use to be taxed at its recreational use value instead of being taxed according to its development potential, unless the land is used and controlled or owned by an organization or person who discriminates against or violates the civil rights of individuals.

The amendment would also require the General Assembly to provide for the deferral or recoupment of any part of the difference between (1) The annual real property tax levied on recreational land at its recreational use value in accordance with the new constitutional provisions and (2) The amount of the tax that would have been paid had the land been taxed at a uniform percentage of its market value like other real property.

6 PROPOSED CONSTITUTIONAL AMENDMENT To amend Article V, section 2a, Ohio Constitution

TO REQUIRE THE GENERAL ASSEMBLY TO PROVIDE BY LAW METHODS TO GIVE EACH CANDIDATE'S NAME REASONABLY EQUAL POSITION ON THE BALLOT BY ROTATION OR OTHER METHODS APPROPRIATE TO THE VOTING PROCEDURE USED.

(Proposed by Resolution of the General Assembly)
A majority affirmative vote is necessary for passage.

YES	SHALL THE PROPOSED AMENDMENT BE ADOPTED?
NO

EXPLANATION OF ISSUE NO. 6

The Ohio Constitution presently prevents the use of voting machines or other methods of voting machines or rotational patterns are available in each precinct. The results are added expenses and delays in voting. This is due to the present constitutional requirement that candidates' names be rotated on the ballot so that each candidate's name will be rotated an equal number of times.

The proposed amendment would remove the present rotational requirement from the Constitution and replace it with language requiring the General Assembly to provide by law a method for giving each candidate's name reasonably equal treatment on the ballot, such as rotation of names on a precinct by precinct basis rather than on a ballot by ballot basis.

7 PROPOSED CONSTITUTIONAL AMENDMENT To amend Article V, section 7, Ohio Constitution

TO REQUIRE DELEGATES TO NATIONAL CONVENTIONS OF POLITICAL PARTIES TO BE CHOSEN BY THE VOTERS IN A MANNER PROVIDED BY LAW.

If adopted, the amendment shall take effect January 1, 1976.

(Proposed by Resolution of the General Assembly)
A majority affirmative vote is necessary for passage.

YES	SHALL THE PROPOSED AMENDMENT BE ADOPTED?
NO

EXPLANATION OF ISSUE NO. 7

The Ohio Constitution currently requires the names of all candidates for elective office to be placed on the national convention of a political party to be listed on the ballot, along with the first and second choices for president of each candidate for delegate. This results in a very lengthy "bed sheet" ballot listing of names.

The proposed amendment would make it possible for the General Assembly to pass a law that would provide for direct election of delegates to presidential nominating conventions and eliminate the necessity of printing on the ballot the names of both the delegate candidates and the preferred presidential candidate.

Without passage of this amendment, it will be impossible to shorten the presidential primary ballot.

8 PROPOSED CONSTITUTIONAL AMENDMENT To Adopt Section 14 of Article VIII, Ohio Constitution

TO PERMIT THE STATE, OR ANY CITY, VILLAGE, COUNTY, TOWNSHIP OR REGIONAL TRANSPORTATION AUTHORITY TO GIVE OR LOAN ITS CREDIT TO AID FEDERAL CORPORATIONS AND STATE AGENCIES FOR RECREATION OR RAIL SYSTEMS IN THE STATE. LAWS MAY BE PASSED TO REDUCE THE TAXATION OF PROPERTY USED TO PROVIDE THE STATE WITH RAIL TRANSPORTATION SERVICE AND TO PERMIT THE STATE TO REIMBURSE LOCAL GOVERNMENTS FOR REVENUE LOST AS A RESULT OF SUCH TAX REDUCTIONS. MONIES RAISED BY TAXATION SHALL NOT BE OBLIGATED OR PLEDGED FOR THE PAYMENT OF BONDS OR OTHER OBLIGATIONS ISSUED IN ACCORDANCE WITH THIS SECTION.

(Proposed by Resolution of the General Assembly)
A majority affirmative vote is necessary for passage.

YES	SHALL THE PROPOSED AMENDMENT BE ADOPTED?
NO

EXPLANATION OF ISSUE NO. 8

The resolution authorizes the state, or any city, county, village, township or regional transportation authority, to give or loan its credit in aid of a corporation authorized under federal law to an Ohio state governmental agency, in order to provide rail transportation service. These political subdivisions, however, could give or lend their aid and credit only in accordance with laws passed for that purpose.

The amendment would authorize passage of laws to reduce taxation of property used to provide the state with rail transportation service. It would also permit the General Assembly to enact laws that provide for reimbursement of local government units, from the state's General Revenue Fund, for revenues lost as a result of these property tax reductions.

The resolution declares that money raised by taxation is not to be obligated or pledged for the payment of any bonds or other obligations issued under the proposed section of the Constitution. It would authorize the issuance of bonds and obligations similar to industrial development revenue bonds.

9 PROPOSED CONSTITUTIONAL AMENDMENT To amend Article XV, section 6, Ohio Constitution

TO PERMIT THE GENERAL ASSEMBLY TO AUTHORIZE AND REGULATE THE OPERATION OF BINGO CONDUCTED BY CHARITABLE ORGANIZATIONS FOR CHARITABLE PURPOSES.

(Proposed by Resolution of the General Assembly)
A majority affirmative vote is necessary for passage.

YES	SHALL THE PROPOSED AMENDMENT BE ADOPTED?
NO

EXPLANATION OF ISSUE NO. 9

The Ohio Constitution currently prohibits lotteries (games of chance) for any purpose whatever except in the case of lotteries conducted by the state for general revenue.

This amendment would permit the General Assembly to authorize bingo and regulate the operation of bingo if it is conducted by charitable organizations for charitable purposes.

repair of buildings, structures, facilities or other improvements to real property, including facilities providing utility services, unless there is in effect and applicable to such project a law, regulation, rule, executive order, or contract providing for affirmative action intended to ensure that applicants are employed, and that employees are treated during employment, in such work on the project without regard to their race, color, religion, national origin, ancestry or sex.

Laws, or the portions thereof, authorizing the issuance of such bonds or notes or appropriating such proceeds shall go into effect immediately, or at such other time therein provided, and shall not be subject to referendum. Any moneys to be appropriated from the improvement fund may be used in connection with other moneys from any other source. The bonds and notes, the application of the proceeds thereof, and provisions for and the payment thereof authorized by this section are not subject to any requirements, limitations, or prohibitions of any other section of Article VIII, sections 4, 6 and 11 of Article XII of this Constitution.

The bonds and notes issued under authority of this section are general obligations of the state and the full faith, credit, revenue, and taxing power of the state are pledged to the payment of the principal thereof and interest and premium thereon.

The bonds and notes shall be issued and sold by the commissioners of the sinking fund (herein called the "commissioners") from time to time in amounts authorized by law, subject to the limitations of this section. If bonds are notes are issued under the authority of this section, such new bonds are notes shall not be counted against the aggregate limit of bonds and notes which may be issued under this section to the extent that the principal amount thereof does not exceed the principal amount of the bonds and notes previously retired thereby. Each issue of bonds shall mature in not more than thirty years from date of issuance. No bond or note shall mature after December 31, 2009. Each issue of notes shall mature in not more than five years from date of issuance, or from the date of issuance of the original draft presented therefor. If such notes are issued for the refunding of notes previously issued.

The bonds and notes shall be sold at competitive sale in the manner determined by the commissioners. The bonds and notes shall bear such terms, consistent with this section, as the commissioners determine or provide for in resolutions for their authorization or sale. Any of the powers and duties of the commissioners under this paragraph may be delegated by each commissioner to an officer or employee of such commissioners' office designated by such commissioner in a written designation filed with the secretary of state.

There is hereby established in the treasury of the state a fund designated Ohio jobs and development bond retirement fund (herein called the "bond retirement fund") into which shall be paid all accrued interest and premium received upon the sale of such bonds and notes. All income and profit received from investment of moneys in the bond retirement fund and the improvement fund, to be made or caused to be made by the treasurer of state pursuant to law, shall be paid into the bond retirement fund.

On or before the first day of July in each calendar year the director of budget and management shall certify to the auditor of state and the treasurer of state the total amount of funds the director of budget and management determines is necessary to provide, together with any moneys in the bond retirement fund available for such purposes, for the payment of the principal of each calendar year of principal of and interest and any premium on the bonds and notes, and charges for such payments, other than the amounts funded or to be funded with the proceeds of bonds and notes. Such certification may be supplemented or adjusted by additional certifications provided by the director of state and the treasurer of state by the director of budget and management. The auditor of state and the treasurer of state shall take such actions as are necessary to transfer from the state general revenue fund to the bond retirement fund the amounts so certified, as supplemented or adjusted, at the time and in the manner provided for such purposes, without necessity for appropriation; provided that if and to the extent that any part of the amount required has been appropriated for such purpose from any other funds, the auditor and treasurer shall transfer from such other funds the amount so appropriated and reduce accordingly the amount to be transferred from the state general revenue fund. The bond retirement fund shall be paid out by the treasurer of state to meet the principal of and interest and premium on the bonds and notes and charges for such payments as the same are due and payable, without necessity for appropriation.

To assure that the revenues of the state will at all times be adequate to meet the principal of and interest and premium on the bonds and notes authorized by this section, and charges for such payments, without impairment of other programs of the state, there is hereby declared, as provided below, beginning July 1, 1976, on retail sales made in this state an excise tax at the rate of seven-tenths of one percent of the price of such retail sale, and on the storage, use, or other consumption in this state of tangible personal property an excise tax at the rate of seven-tenths of one per cent on the price at which such property has been purchased which excise taxes shall be in addition to all other excise taxes levied from time to time by the state, counties, and transit authorities, or by any other taxing authority, on retail sales made in this state and on the storage, use, or other consumption in this state of tangible personal property and shall be imposed upon the same subjects, with the same exclusions, exemptions and refunds, and paid, collected, reported, and administered in all respects in the same manner, as such other excise taxes. Such additional taxes at the rate of seven-tenths of one per cent are hereby levied and shall be collected with such other excise taxes authorized by law in the combined amount of whole cents for all such taxes on prices within brackets as prescribed by law, which law is not subject to referendum and shall go into immediate effect for the levy of such additional excise taxes beginning July 1, 1976. If no such law is in effect on May 15, 1976, then the tax commissioner shall immediately adopt and file with the secretary of state a rule prescribing such brackets and the whole cents of excise taxes applicable to each bracket; and such rule shall be effective and conclusive, upon such filing, for determining the tax levied hereby to and including December 31, 1976 or until the effective date of a law prescribing such brackets, whichever last occurs.

That portion of the taxes collected by the state from and attributable to the excise taxes hereby levied shall be paid, within ten days following the month of receipt, into the bond retirement fund until the balance in such fund is sufficient to pay the principal of and interest and premium on the bonds and notes, and charges for such payments, payable during the then current calendar year, and any balance of such portion received during such calendar year shall be paid into the improvement fund and shall be available for appropriation for costs of capital improvements or, if as so provided by law, shall be paid into any other fund or funds for the payment of principal of and interest and premium on any bonds or notes of the state. For purposes of this paragraph, the portion of such sales and use taxes collected by the state from and attributable to the excise taxes levied hereby shall be determined as follows: the total collection of excise taxes collected by the state on retail sales and the storage, use or other

According to Mark, there will be five divisions in the competition with a prize to be awarded each division winner.

There will be a junior high (or middle school) and high school division for the essay contest with the students developing the theme "What Uncle Sam Means to Me." There will be three divisions for the arts contest with students in the elementary, junior high and high schools developing the theme "My Impression of Uncle Sam."

The Fayette County Board of Realtors will select a committee to judge all the entries and the prizes for each of the winners will be a $50 U.S. Savings Bond. The local winners will also be forwarded to the Ohio Association of Realtors' headquarters for statewide judging. Winners of the state contest will be honored at the January, 1976 inaugural meetings and will be presented $100, U.S. Savings Bonds.

Mark said that the complete contest rules have been distributed in all schools within the board's jurisdictional area of Fayette County.

consumption of tangible personal property, after deducting the portion to be returned by law to counties, transit authorities, and any other taxing authority then levying such taxes pursuant to law, shall be multiplied by a fraction, the numerator of which is seven-tenths of one per cent and the denominator of which is the aggregate rate of such taxes then levied by the state, and the product thereof shall be the amount of such taxes from and attributable to the excise taxes levied hereby.

The preceding three paragraphs are intended to provide internal procedures of the state for allocation of funds to meet the principal of and interest and premium on the bonds and notes herein authorized, and charges for such payments, and do not in any way qualify or affect the pledge of the full faith, credit, revenue, and taxing power of the state as hereinabove set forth.

The principal of and interest on all bonds and notes issued under this section shall be exempt from all taxes levied by the state or any taxing subdivision or district thereof.

The reference herein to the director of budget and management and the tax commissioner shall be deemed to include officers who pursuant to law succeed to their respective duties.

This section or any action hereunder does not in any way reduce the authority of political subdivisions to levy taxes or incur bonded indebtedness, nor does it affect section 1a or section 9 of Article XII of this Constitution.

Upon the payment of all principal of and interest and premium on the bonds and notes issued under this section or provision in the bond retirement fund of moneys or direct obligations of, or obligations of the principal of and interest on which fully guaranteed by, the United States bearing such maturities and interest as well produce moneys in adequate amount at the times required for such payment, or a combination of both, the commissioners promptly shall make a final report to the General Assembly, and any balance in excess remaining in the bond retirement fund shall be disposed of as provided by law. The excise taxes levied by this section shall cease on the thirtieth day after the receipt by the General Assembly of such final report.

ARGUMENT IN FAVOR OF PROPOSED AMENDMENT

This amendment will provide the boldest approach ever used by government to clean up blight in Ohio's cities and villages, and to attack the problems of unemployment. The program is a big answer to a big problem.

The most important feature is a series of direct grants to Ohio cities and villages for cleanup and downtown improvement programs. The money can be used for any worthwhile purpose. Possible uses include building of athletic or convention facilities, senior citizen centers, tree-planting, parks and green spaces and parking.

All projects will be initiated at the local level by local elected officials.

But the city renovation is only the beginning. Other features include:

- $200 million to clean up depressed areas of Ohio.

- $150 million to develop energy resources in Ohio to keep Ohio plants open.

- $140 million to build cancer research and treatment hospitals in Cincinnati, Columbus, Toledo and Cleveland.

- $40 million to expand open heart surgery capacity at the Cleveland Clinic, to make this treatment available to the average working Ohioan.

- $275 million to develop top rate ports along Lake Erie and the Ohio River to open new trade routes to the state.

- $75 million for state park facilities, including lodges within 30 minutes of the three largest cities.

- $50 million for safe drinking water projects.

- $100 million to complete Ohio's vocational education system to make our young people productive citizens.

- $50 million for trash resource recovery projects.

- $75 million to upgrade Ohio's penal institutions.

- $145 million for needed additional state government facilities including regional office buildings.

The projects will be paid by a $275 billion bond note, which will be repaid by .7 of one cent increase — less than 1 per cent — in the state sales tax.

Committee for the Amendment: Thomas J. Moyer, A.G. Lancione, Robert F. Kurtiss, Michael J. Maloney, Charles T. Secret.

ARGUMENT IN OPPOSITION TO PROPOSED AMENDMENT

VOTE NO ON ISSUE 5

ISSUE 5 WILL RAISE YOUR SALES TAXES BY 17.5 PER CENT.

Issue 5 proposes to raise $5.83 billion ($2.75 billion principal and $3.08 billion interest) for capital improvements projects by the sale of bonds. The bonds are to be paid for by revenues generated by increasing YOUR Ohio Sales Tax by 17.5 per cent.

ISSUE 5 IS TOO EXPENSIVE.

Issue 5 proposes to place Ohioans in debt to the tune of $5.83 billion for an unwieldy and unplanned program with all the earmarks of a pork barrel project something for nothing to everyone.

EACH OHIO FAMILY WILL HAVE TO PAY $1500 IN ADDITIONAL TAXES FOR THIS PROGRAM.

The cost of Ohio's present bond debt, coupled with these issues, will mean a loss to the General Revenue Fund of more than half a billion dollars each year: a vast sum that could have been applied to improve existing state services or reduce your tax burdens.

ISSUE 5 BENEFITS ONLY THOSE PEOPLE WHO ARE LEAST AFFECTED BY REGRESSIVE TAXES.

Issue 5 as a sales tax increase is most harmful to those persons of moderate and low income who can least afford the additional tax burden.

The people who benefit from these issues are the people who will be buying the bonds, and sharing in the more than $5 billion in interest which YOU and every working man and woman in Ohio will be paying over the next 30 years.

ISSUE 5 CREATES A PERMANENT DEBT FOR TEMPORARY JOBS.

Issue 5 will place future generations in serious debt while creating only a minimal number of temporary new jobs: jobs which will last at the most for only a year or two.

Ohio cannot afford to go into debt to create a few jobs for programs of questionable value.

VOTE NO ON ISSUE 5

Committee against the Amendment: Harry Nashel, Mike Stinziano, Marigene Vallegrate, Virginia Alvi.

Blood Vital Diagnostic Key

When a doctor takes a blood test what is he testing for?
Barry F., Ohio

Dear Barry:
There are few more exciting letters than the ones I receive from young boys and girls who show their interest in medicine and science.

I have watched young people as they progress from their initiation into science to become physicians and research workers.

When a blood sample is taken, it is sent to a laboratory for analysis. Modern, computerized techniques can, in a short time, study the blood and give "read-outs" of perhaps 60 or more tests.

Studies for sugar, uric acid, urea nitrogen, cholesterol, calcium and phosphorous are some of the significant tests. Red blood cells are studied for their number, their size and their shape, all of which have specific meaning in health and disease.

The number of white blood cells is an indication of the activity of infection. There are a number of subdivisions of the white blood cells, one of which indicates an allergic tendency. Heterophile studies indicate the presence of mononucleosis.

The "protein-bound iodine" test is used to determine the activity of the thyroid gland.

The blood group of a person is identified through this testing.

Bilirubin studies of the blood are important in liver and gall bladder disease.

Enzyme studies are important in understanding the condition of the pancreas.

The SGOT test is important in cases of heart attacks, liver damage and other complex conditions.

The ability of the blood to coagulate is studied in people who have a bleeding tendency.

I have listed only some of the many tests that can be performed on blood. The physician, using his judgment, decides what specific tests he wants to have made. This depends on his impression of a patient after a complete medical examination.

DR. COLEMAN welcomes letters from readers, and, while he cannot undertake to answer each one, he will use questions in his column whenever possible and when they are of general interest. Address your letters to Dr. Coleman in care of this newspaper.

Opening lead - queen of hearts.

The outcome of most hands depends largely on how the unseen cards are divided, and declarer's most important task is to shape his play so as to cater to the most likely division of the cards. In doing so, he naturally looks for the method of play that offers the best chance of making the contract.

Here is a typical case. West leads a heart and a count of winners tells South he has eleven sure tricks. He has basically two chances for a twelfth trick. One is to find the diamonds divided 3-3; the other is to find the spades divided 3-3.

The problem of which suit to play first is highly important. In the actual case, if South starts by cashing three diamonds to see how the suit is divided, he eventually goes down one. However, that would be the wrong way to play the hand. The correct approach is to tackle spades first.

After winning the heart lead with the ace, declarer should cash his clubs and then play a low spade from both hands. Let's assume East takes the queen and returns a heart.

South wins with the king and cashes the A-K of spades to see where he stands. When the suit proves to be 3-3, his worries are all over and he takes the rest of the tricks.

If it develops that the spades are not 3-3, South still has a 3-3 diamond division (and possibly a squeeze) going for him.

The important point is that by leading spades first, South gets a chance to test his luck in both suits, but if he starts with diamonds first, he is not in position to take advantage of a 3-3 spade break even if that favorable division exists.

Have you seen that new FLIPFLASH thing on the newer pocket cameras?

Well, it gets the light up high enough to eliminate much of the red-eye problem, however, if I were using Flipflash the first thing I would do would be to get the Kodak Flipflash Extender which gets the flash even farther from the lens, then, as a bonus, it has an 18 inch extension wire for special off-camera lighting effects. Now this gives the Instamatic photographer some of the same flexibility that the more advanced SLR lensman has with his sophisticated electronic flash gear. Ant there I've touched on a point that depresses me much. So many of the advanced SLR people use their camera with skill and imagination right up to the time they slip their electronic flash on the flash shoe, at which point they start using their equipment like beginning snapshooters. The most fascinating phase of creative photographic techniques these days involves the ways to use flash creatively. This is truly a fun area to explore. give us a chance to help you in this area.
We're seeing more and more good existing light pix made down at night - football and half-time stuff. Ed Summers has done some nice work with Kodak 2475 developed in Acufine. Good quality; artistically effective. And Howard Miller's High Speed Ektachrome, ESP processing, quite good. Existing light is another fun area.

Public hearing slated on watershed project

A public hearing has been scheduled Tuesday, Oct. 21, for discussion of the proposed Rattlesnake Creek improvement project.

The meeting with officials of the U.S. Soil Conservation Service is scheduled at 7:30 p.m. in the Sabina Elementary School cafeteria.

The petition for improvement of the creek was submitted in June by local residents. John Peterson, 500 West Fork Rd., one of the original petitioners, has served as chairman of the group.

He had contacted the Soil Conservation Service regarding the possibility of government assistance with the project under Public Law No. 566, a water conservation statute.

After a preliminary study of the project, the Soil Conservation Service indicated that the improvements seem feasible on a limited basis. If so, federal funds may be available.

The meeting offers interested residents an opportunity to hear what has already been done in studying the project and to ask questions as to what future steps might be taken.

The proposed project extends from South Solon to Buena Vista and includes work in Fayette, Greene, Clinton and Madison counties.

FBI men informers?

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Federal Bureau of Investigation lent agents to congressional staffs to lobby on behalf of former FBI Director J. Edgar Hoover, and the agents, in turn, reported back on the personal lives of congressmen, the Washington Post reported in its Tuesday editions.

The Post, quoting a source "with first-hand knowledge of the operation," said the agents lobbied for legislation sought by Hoover, such as special retirement provisions. At the same time, the agents kept Hoover apprised of "personal derogatory information on sexual activities, drinking habits or other personal matters," the newspaper quoted the source as saying.

An FBI spokesman refused comment on the story.

The Post said the ostensible purpose of the program was to aid members of Congress by lending them agents with expertise in certain areas.

But the story quoted the source as saying the real purpose of the program "was the infiltration of Congress."

FBI Director Clarence M. Kelley publicly acknowledged last January that Hoover, during his 48-year tenure at the agency, had compiled files on members of Congress that included unsubstantiated allegations about the personal lives of some.

Wilson Colleson, 1893-1941, born in Glouster, Athens County, Ohio, was an $18-a-week clerk in a Columbus drug store when he wrote the hit comedy, "Up in Mabel's Room."

Open house held at PTO's meeting

The October meeting of the Eastside Elementary School Parent-Teacher Organization included a school open house.

Principal Roger Mickle introduced the teachers and staff, and following the meeting, those attending were invited to visit the classrooms.

PTO president Larry Bennett announced that the annual carnival will be held from 3 to 8 p.m. Nov. 15. A planning meeting will be held at 7:30 p.m. Oct. 15 for those who are interested in participating.

The school hot lunch program and the resulting change in school hours was discussed. The program is expected to begin at Eastside Oct. 20. At that time, classes will commence at 8:40 a.m. and dismiss at 2:40 p.m. Lunches will be 50 cents, and extra milk will cost eight cents per carton.

The result of the membership drive were announced at the conclusion of the meeting. Mrs. Jean King's class captured first place and the $10 prize. Mrs. Katherine Seymore's class was second, and Mrs. Jane Mossbarger's class was third.

Fund goal set by Jeff's PTO

JEFFERSONVILLE — The Jeffersonville Parent-Teacher Organization has set a goal of $2,000 in assistance to the school's elementary education program during 1975-76.

This money would be used for the purchase of reference materials, playground equipment and other items. Since the PTO's current balance is $670.69, an exceptional effort will be needed to achieve the goal.

The Halloween carnival will be the first fund-raising project for the PTO this year. The carnival will feature a general store, chili supper and masquerade contest.

The sock hop originally scheduled for Oct. 31 has been postponed. A new date has not yet been arranged.

An open house will follow the November meeting, and parents are urged to take this opportunity to meet their children's teachers.

Other items discussed included the room mothers' program, fund-raising activities and the annual book fair.
